IMPORTANT AUDITING TIPS

- Drive, bike, or walk around the park to get a feel for what's in the park and the neighborhood around the park.
- The eCPAT questions are grouped in sections in the order that you might come across them in a park. However, you may need to switch between sections as you complete your park audit. Therefore, it is important to look through the tool before you begin.
- When you are finished, go back and make sure you have completed all the sections and questions.
- There is space at the end of each section where you can type comments as you complete your audit.
- Also, use the legend to the right to identify the various icons in the eCPAT and their uses.
- If you see anything that requires immediate attention, contact the local parks department.

Splash Pad

A splash pad is a water play area designed for children in which water spouts from poles or other toys. In contrast to a pool, the water sprays out and then largely drains almost immediately and thus there is no standing water.
